SHANGHAI, October 8.—The bombardthe lake about a mile from shore. There left them clinging to stringers on a beam in a most perilous position. One man came ashore on a plank near South Chicago, and it is feared the others have been drowned. A life saving crew has gone to the rescue.

The life-saving crew shortly before moon succeeded in throwing a line to the frail pier from which the shanty had been blown, and the rescue of what remains of the party is now certain, unless they should in the meantime be overcome by exhaustion and cold. Eight figures can be distinguished through a field glass clinging to the pier, which, together with one who loated ashore, leaves seven unaccounted hoated ashore, leaves seven unaccounted for, and it is feared they have been lost. The life-saving crew have succeeded in rescuing four persons, and it is now known that ten of those on the frail pier were drowned. The storm was one of great fury. It blew up very suddenly, and the work of destroying the temporary structure was quick and temporary structure was quick and complete. The men had one small boat, which is supposed to have gone adrift when the storm first struck the A number of the unfortunate men were carried into the lake with the wreckage of their building, and were compelled to battle for their lives with none to aid beyond stray pieces of float-ing timber, in the darkness of the night. Few facts are obtainable at this hour.

The numbers in the streets seemed to have increased since the morning demonstration. Blaine was escorted to the stand in the midst of a great tent intended to hold over 10,000 people. The tent was already parted full, and thousands more were gathered around it outside. When the demonstration with which Mr. Blaine was received had subsided, he made the following speech: lowing speech:

ceived had subsided, he made the following speech:

"Men of Ohio:—In the procession of our political opponents at Young-town, recently, there appeared a man and woman in grags and apparent wretchedness, bearing the inscription 'This is what protection has done for us.' (Derisive laughter.) This was intended to be typical and denounce the results of protection in Ohio. I want to present the other side of the picture. In Ohio today there are 21,000 manufacturing establishments. They cost $200,000,000, and they turn out annually products worth $350,000,000. As a result of that investment and that product, I observe a great many people in Ohio who are not in rags and not in wretchedness. (Laughter and great cheering.) Thirty-five and forty years ago the entire western country was called upon as an agricultural community to oppose a protective tariff because it unjustly favored the manufacturing industries of the country have traveled westward. since then the manufacturing industries of the country have traveled westward until Ohio has become one of the largest manufacturing States of the Union, (cheers) and combining within herself great agricultaral interests and great manufacturing interests. Indiana, II-linois, and Michigan are coming on rapidly after Ohio; Iowa, Kansas and Minnesota will come along in due time, the result being that the protective policy now upheld by the Republican party operates thus far to carry manufactures into every State and ultimately into every county in the United States. It never was designed that one part of the country should be permanently agricultural and another part manufacturing, but it was designed that agriculture and manufactures. manufacturing States of the Union, designed that agriculture and manufacturing should go hand in hand (cheers), and whenever they do go hand in hand we have thrift, progress and happiness. (Renewed cheering.) If this industrial system, which combines the highest elefacturing interests, is worth preserving, you should not forget that our political opponents have never failed in the last east than in the west. I answer to it that since a protective tariff was enacted in 1861, the exports for the United Jay Eye See and Phallas will be retired States have been vastly greater in amount and value than all the exports from the first settlement of an English colonist on this continent down to the inauguration of President Lincoln. Baravia, N. Y., October 8.—The Re- (Great cheering.) I think that is worth publican congressional convention of repeating. ("Yes, yes.") If you take the Thirty-first district reconvened tothe territory which now constitutes the United States from the time of the settlement of Jamestown and at Plymouth Rock, in 1007 and 1620, clear down to 1500, and add them together, they fail by several thousand million dollars, to be as great in amount as our exports from 1801 to this time. (Renewed cheers.) So that the assertion that a protective tariff hinders the development of the commerce of the country disproved by facts, but directly the contrary is true, for agriculture and manufactures and commerce go hand in hand, were designed to go hand in band. They are the triple cords which bound together, make up strength and national prosperity. I assume, there-fore, that the people of Ohio are inter-ested in maintaining a protective tariff, and if you are it is in your power to do it. ("We'll do it, we'll do it!" and cheering.) Ohio speaks her voice on Tuesday next; this district will have an opportunity to speak her voice, and say whether one of the most brilliant advocates of protection that ever served in Crowd.

The Shades of Night Overtake the Runners in their Futile Attempts to Make a Start.

One of those scenes which are occasionally heard of in the sporting world, and which do as much to cast, disgredit, upon the fraternity as absolute crookedness could do, occurred yesterday at Washington Square, where the much advertised, long talked-of foot race between Tibbitts and Wright was to have come off. A large number of Ogden ance, On account of a misunderstand porting men accompanied their favortwo still heavier went about begging. The stakes put up by the runners—$59 a side—had been deposited with the reporter of The Heald some time be fore. As the time for the appearance of the runners approached, the excitement waxed hotter and hotter. Several policemen and three or four of the Salt Lake base ball team worked like beavers to keep the crowd back from each side of the track, and the wrestling, howling, pushing and struggling would have outdone a scene at Donnybrook Fair.

Withdrawn. Mr. Hall bought "Christmastide" for $50. The "Church Door in Cincinnati," John Merrill, $135; "Sunset on the Marne." M. P. Jones, $67.50; "Englise de Chelles—Le Soir," C. C. Clay, $92.50; "Deserted Mill." Dr. Bowles, $20. "Westminster Abbey" was withdrawn at $1,200, and three handsome grape pieces were bid in for a Cincinnati lady for $205. A large number of smaller works went at prices ranging from $10 to $40.

In fifteen or twenty minutes, during which time the sun was sinking lower and those in the stand bad much ado to keep their blood in circulation, the ropes had all been stretched and the runners made their appearance. Both appeared in excellent trim; both were as evenly matched as the eye could judge, and the spectators settled themselves for an exciting event. Dr. Benedict, Jake Moritz and Arthur Pratt had been appointed judges, the two former standing at the and of the course and the latter filling the position of starter. The officers and ball players shouted, shoved and threatand all who can go to work will retain at the reduction. Manufacturers have agreed to take the strikers back, provided they make application as individuals and not as members of the Union.

Track Tatk.

New York. October 8.— The Turf, Field and Farm says: Mand 8, having made, at Hartford, a halt mile in 1.34, the last quarter in 30¼, she will be supposed to take the strikers back, provided they make application as individuals and not as members of the Union.

Track Tatk.

New York. October 8.— The Turf, Field and Farm says: Mand 8, having made, at Hartford, a halt mile in 1.34, the last quarter in 30¼, she will be east than in the west. I answer to it they should be the one taken—that is, that a line would be taken—that is, that a line would be taken—that is, that a line would be taken—that is, that a line with the accuration that a protective tariff injures the commerce of the country. That is more frequently made in the east than in the west. I answer to it they should be they not sufficiently made in the last fity-one existed in attempts to keep the people back, but so intense was the desire to catch glimpses of the runners that until they should be known to have started the crowd could not be controlled. The agreement had been made that a living start should be the one taken—that is, that a line would be drawn at a certain point, and as soon as both overstapped it they must go. But as one refrained from going over it the other must await his action, and no ball players shouted, shoved and threatened in attempts to keep the people back, but so intense was the desire to esten glimpses of the runners that until they should be known to have started the crowd could not be controlled. The agreement had been made that a flying start should be the one taken—that is, that a line would be drawn at a certain point and as seen and the controlled. the other must await his action, and no start could ever be made until both felt satisfied with it. A little run was made, and a yell went up from a thousand throats, "Here they come," but it proved a false alarm—one or the other had been dissatisfied with the start and had not gone over the line. Another little run, another yell, and another false alarm. This was repeated; then again, and again, and again, and again till the spectators began to grow weary and inclined to be sarcastic. Tibbits would ruf over the line and make a dash, only to see that his opponent had not crossed it; this he did fitteen times; Wright went over it three or four times, but then Tib-bitts had not arranged himself; owing to the improbability of getting a start before 7 a.m. at this rate, a handker-chief was provided, and the old means of each runner taking an end and trotting till separated by some person on the track, and then making a "go," was resorted to, but without any better success. One or the other felt uncertain—though by far the greatest number of times it was the Ogden man who showed ess, it had grown so dark that the cess, it had grown so dark that the judges could hardly see the hands of their watches. The cry of "Fraud!" "Fizzle!" "Money back!" began to be heard. The policemen sweat, the base ballists swore, the babies cried, and the crowd jeered. Soon the demand became general along the line for a "Pistol shot start!" and the crowd cleaned the shot start," and the crowd cleaned the track with cheers when it was thought this suggestion might be adopted. It was a vain hope, however, for while the spectators were getting themselves once more into order, the runners were putting on their coats and leaving the grounds-Wright, as far as we could learn last night, taking the lead in this move; it was now nearly dark, and when the news was circulated that the

> THE HERALD office was visited last night by several of those having the affair in hand, all deeply deploring the turn the matter had taken, and all claiming that no blame was to be attached to any one or anything except the sys-tem of starting agreed upon. The Reds tem of starting agreed upon. The Reds indignantly deny having anythi g to do with the postponement, and the managers as indignantly assert that no arrangement whatever was made. That both speak the truth is of course evident from the course of the course deat from the announcement now made that the race will come off this morning

THE FOOT RACE FIASCO and both were unwilling to "go" unless he was confident of his having a good start. Tibbits has never practiced the pistol shot start, or he would have gone at that last night; that sort of a start, however, is Wright's specialty; but it has been don for to-day, though Tibbitts was very relectively and was Tibbitts was very reluctant, and we think the best evidence we can give of POSTPONEMENT TILL TO-DAY. our good faith is the announcement we make that the race will come off at the race will come of the race will come of the race will come of the race with the race will come of the race with the race will come of the race with the race will come of the race will come of the race with the race will come of the race with the race will come of the race will come of the race will come of the race with the race will come of the race will come of the race will come of the race will be announcement with the race will come of the race will come of the race will be announcement with the race will come of the race will be announcement with the race will come of the race will be announcement with the race will be announcement with the race will come of the race will be announcement with the race will come of the race will be announcement with the race will be announced with the race will be announced

THE DEAKIN ART SALE.

How the Pictures Went, and Who the Buyers Were.

Under the above heading the San Francisco Chronicle gives some particulars that will be interesting to art lovers in Utah:

Quite a spirited sale of paintings by Edwin Deakin was held in the rooms of the Art Association last evening, and a large number of buyers were in attending as to the hour the afternoon sale would begin, there were few bidders on ite to the city, and an equal or heavier number went to the track to back Tibblts. As soon as the base ball contest was finished, two lines were formed along the track in front of the grand stand, and the betting at once commenced. That Tibbits was the favorite was easily seen. Several $5, $10 and $20 wagers were taken by Ogden men, but a good many of the same size, and one or two still heavier went about begging. The stakes put up by the runners—$50 would begin, there were few bidders on hand during the day. The pictures were sold as follows; "January," $50, to Mrs. Blake; "Old English Mill," $50, to John Hinkel; "Crested Peak," $70, John Merrill; "A Quiet Nook," $32, C. C. Clay; "Bear Valley," $35, John Merrill; "Port Neuf," $75, John Hinkel; "Ihue de Paris," $280, George Prescott; "Castle of Chillon," $40, H. Stevens; "A Cool Retreat," $50, M. H. de Young. Captain Ford bid $950 on the "Notre Dame de Paris," but the picture was withdrawn. Mr. Hall bought "Christmastide" for $80; The "Church Door"
